

TRIP AGREEMENT TERMS

Participation on any Nature Trail Hiking Trip is subject to these Trip Agreement Terms.

Nature Trail places the safety and welfare of each guest participant foremost. While we encourage and welcome anyone to consider joining us on a trip, to mitigate risks we responsibly apply strict Safety Eligibility Criteria to each intending participant.

Hiking in the rugged Blue Mountains region involves exposure to the inherent risks associated with the harsh and sometimes hazardous natural environment in which we operate.

OUR POLICY: "We would prefer to lose business rather than risk injury, and where we trip can be inherently risky."

Participant Acknowledgement of Risks and Obligations

Each guest participant of Nature Trail participates on any trip offered on the basis that he/she recognised and accepts that such outdoors activity, including the natural bushwalking environment, poses inherent natural hazards, risks and rigors that may cause injury, illness or death or to loss of or damage to property.

As a participant joining on a trip, in order to minimise risks I will endeavour to ensure that

1. Each activity is within my capabilities,
2. I shall wear appropriate clothing as advised by the Trip Leader
3. I shall carry food, water and equipment and clothing appropriate for the activity as required.
4. I shall advise the Trip Leader if I am taking any medication or have any physical or other limitation that might affect my participation in the activity.
5. I shall make every effort to remain with the rest of the party during the activity
6. I shall advise the leader of any concerns I am having, and
7. I shall comply with all reasonable instructions of the Trip Leader.

Minors Not Permitted

Participants under the age of 18 years are not permitted to participate on any Nature Trail trip due to unacceptable heightened risks in the outdoors environment in which we operate and due to liability insurance prohibitions. We refer parents to our competition.

Bookings Policy

Each participant booking for a given trip requires a prospective trip participant ('applicant') to first complete and sign a Trip Agreement and submit it to Nature Trail in advance of the scheduled trip start. The minimum advanced submission receipt notice period is 24 hours.

Nature Trail reviews each applicant's submission and then contacts the applicant to screen the applicant's suitability for the given trip. The screening is undertaken for reasons of trip safety on the basis of physical capacity, health and fitness, applicant limitations, or any other concerns that Nature Trail may judge of an applicant that could pose an unacceptable risk to the safety or welfare of the trip or to other trip participants. In doing so, Nature Trail does not discriminate on any other bases besides reasons of trip safety.

Nature Trail reserves to sole right to refuse any applicant on a trip, whether it be at the time of booking or at the trip start. Usually a reason for refusal shall be communicated directly to the applicant, but in order to avoid dispute, the reason may be general in nature. Bushwalking is not for everyone and some of our day hiking trips are difficult and beyond the capabilities of some.

We only refuse applicants on the basis of our informed safety concerns in the interest and trust of the rights and expectations of other booked participants. Please do not take offence.

If an applicant is considered eligible by Nature Trail to participate on a given trip, Nature Trail shall immediately require full payment in advance by the participant, which is usually processed over the phone. Nature Trail accepts only VISA and MasterCard credit card payments. Note that Nature Trail does not accept part deposits.

Participant Cancellation Policy

If a booking is cancelled by a booked participant for any reason (including circumstances beyond the participant's control such as illness or injury, or because of unfavourable weather, or even simply the participant's change of mind), we request the participant notify us as early as possible as a courtesy.

Booked Participant Failure to Show

It is the responsibility of each booked participant to a given trip to responsibly show up at Nature Trail's designated Trip Start Location and Scheduled Meet Time – appropriately dressed and equipped as specified by the Trip Leader, as well as being fit, well-rested, fresh and sober.

It is the responsibility of a booked participant, that if for any reason they may feel unwell, unfit or in any way unable to participate competently, that they immediately notify Nature Trail by phone on the telephone number at the top of this document.

Please keep Nature Trail informed if you have any changes to your booked participant attendance – number or request to exchange an individual. Assume that trips publicised on the Nature Trail website under the current seasonal programme are to proceed as described, unless informed otherwise by Nature Trail on the website, else by phone by Nature Trail to booked participants in the first instance, with a follow up email explanation.

Do not assume that your trip is cancelled because of inclement weather.

At the time of booking, each applicant agrees to accept that if they fail to show for the booked trip without cancellation received in advance, they do so accepting the condition that they shall be charged a cancellation fee of $30. In such a case, the trip fee shall be refunded electronically to their credit card less the $30 cancellation fee. An email advice shall be promptly sent to the 'no show' participant.

Cancellation Fees

Nature Trail reserves the right to charge a cancellation fee to a booked participant who simply fails to show without Nature Trail receiving notice in advance. Cancellation fees are $30 per booked participant who is a 'no show'. This is simply a cost recovery fee which we consider fair and reasonable.

Trip Cancellation by Nature Trail

Nature Trail normally operates in all but exceptional weather conditions. Weather conditions such as fog, mist drizzle, showers, rain, sleet and moderate wind do not affect normal operation of our trips.

Assume that your booked trip shall proceed as scheduled unless you are informed otherwise by the Trip Leader by phone. Nature Trail will make every effort to notify booked participants if there are delays, postponement, rescheduling, variations or cancellation well in advance of a given trip. Always check your phone for messages the evening prior and before departing home for the Trip Start Time on the day of the trip.

Nature Trail reserves the sole right to decide whether weather conditions deem a trip is safe or unsafe to proceed in less than perfect weather conditions. Nature Trail reserves the sole right to alter or omit any part of the itinerary due to conditions beyond its control such as weather or environmental conditions.

There are 6 specific environmental conditions that for safety reasons that Nature Trail shall cause a trip to be cancelled.

1. Bushfire risk rated as 'Extreme' or worse, and/or an active bushfire in the region
2. Forecast/Actual risk of lightning strike
3. Forecast/Actual high winds gusting above 60kph, when clifftop walking is involved
4. Forecast/ Actual snow
5. Forecast/Actual maximum temperature above 30 degrees Celsius
6. Sudden track closure, natural disaster or other external reason preventing Nature Trail from safely delivering the trip.

Such circumstances or conditions would trigger a "frustrated contract" under the general law, which means it is impossible for Nature Trail to perform or carry out the trip due to events beyond its control. Consequently under such circumstances or conditions, Nature Trail agrees to pay a full refund promptly to each booked participant on the affected trip and to also promptly advise the reason for the cancellation by email to each booked participant.

Guest Participant Numbers

Minimum participant number on any trip is 1. We will proceed on a trip with one participant, up to a maximum of 6, plus our Trip Leader. This limit is recommended by National Parks Service for ecological and risk management reasons, and we happily comply.

Please keep us informed of any changes to the numbers in your party. An increase in numbers may not always be possible. To avoid disappointment, notify us of changes as early as possible.

Conditions of Participation on a Trip

Participants who arrive at Trip Start Time without approval of the Trip Leader shall be automatically denied participation on the trip, without exception.

Nature Trail reserves the sole right to cancel any trip for any reason, to alter our trips (including but not limited to starting times, pricing, inclusions or itinerary) at any time for any reason without notice, and deny access to trips for any participant for any reason.

Nature Trail reserves the sole right to refuse any participant applicant for any trip and will advise the individual directly of the reason in strict confidence. The timing of refusal may be upon Nature Trail receiving an intending participant's Participant Trip Agreement application, in which case a notice of refuse by email shall be sent by Nature Trail to the applicant. The timing of refusal may also be at the Scheduled Meet Time whereby the Trip Leader at his/her complete discretion considers a participant unwell, unfit, is objectionable or inadequately dressed and equipped to safely and competently undertake a trip.

Nature Trail reserves the sole right to remove a participant from any trip for any reason by the Trip Leader.

Justification for rejection/removal includes, but is not limited to, anyone who in the opinion of the Trip Leader is considered to ignore/disobey directives of the Trip Leader or assistant staff, be affected by alcohol or drugs, is disorderly, poses a hazard to themselves or to others, is abusive, appears not physically able, mentally problematic, or is objectionable in any way.

Nature Trail shall not be liable for any additional expenses incurred as a result of rejecting a participant applicant, or the removal of a trip participant from a trip.

Any equipment loaned to a participant for a trip must be returned by the participant to the Trip Leader at the Trip Finish Time.

Trip Emergencies

Each trip participant personally acknowledges that participation on a trip takes place in an outdoor environment which can expose them to inherent risks and hazards. Nature Trail places our guest safety foremost. Whilst our Trip Leader will try to avoid such hazards and mitigate such risks, it is outside the capacity for the Trip Leader to prevent all accidents inadvertently from occurring.

In the event of a hazard and/or incident on a trip, the Trip Leader is responsible for deciding the most appropriate responses in the circumstances with the safety of each trip participant and the trip group considered foremost. The Trip Leader is also responsible for deciding whether to declare an Emergency Situation during a trip and for deciding the most appropriate responses – such as immediately terminating the trip and contacting emergency services.

In the case of medical emergency, each trip participant understands every effort will be made to notify the emergency contact named on this form. In the event that the emergency contact cannot be reached, of each trip participant gives permission for the Trip Leader to communicate personal information provided by each trip participant on this form to the attending medical authorities and for the attending medical authorities to make emergency decisions. In the event medication, medical advice, treatment and/or equipment or transportation is required, each trip participant agrees to accept full financial responsibility.

Each trip participant accept that adequate health and trip interruption insurance is my responsibility.

Ecological Respect on Trip

Nature Trail chooses to conduct most of its day hiking trips in the Blue Mountains Region. This valuable natural environment sustains our trip venture. Many of our trips are conducted in ecologically sensitive sanctuaries that we undertake to safeguard as we pass through. It is a condition of our participants participation that on trip 'we leave no trace' of us having been there except for incredible photos and magic memories.

Please do not interfere with, pick up, alter or remove any plant, animal or other natural, historical or cultural feature. Please keep to formed tracks, carry all your rubbish out with you and use minimal impact toileting procedures should 'nature call'.
